

Financial Aid, Scholarship, and Loan Programs: Funding Opportunities for Health Care Training

Federal & State Financial Aid Resources & Loan Programs

Federal Student Aid Programs/Benefits

The federal government is the largest provider of financial aid. In fact, the federal government provides nearly 75 percent of all available student aid, according to the College Board. So it makes sense to know as much as possible about federal financial aid programs and to apply for federal aid before seeking out more exotic financial aid sources.
